

Think

I think you think we think
Thoughts created our world
Thoughts created us
Thoughts created many things that did not exist before
We thought to make cars
We thought to make buildings that sustain us and others around
I think about the world
You think about the world
We think about the future
They made phones
They made words and sentences and poems
Thinking is a superpower
But what's next?
Whatever you think

END OF POEM